PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

rePlay | Environmental Sustainability Hackathon

Front-end Developer

November 2022

Winner of Hackathon - Collaborated with a team of 3 UX/UI Designers, UX Researchers and 2 Software Developers to build an app focused on reducing plastic waste by allowing people to put their children's toys on our marketplace. I created camera functionality where users can take photos of their product or select photos from their camera gallery so they can post that product. I created multiple components so that our deliverables lead to the apps MVP.

Developed projects , including

- Music Quotes:
Web application that uses an api, using Ajax to fetch the api, used jQuery to manipulate/populate the DOM. App was styled using Javascript, HTML, CSS . When users click on the button random quotes of artist (Kanye West) will populate the DOM to display for users to see. I also left the api in the app for users if they decided to check it out.
  - Tech Stack: HTML, CSS, JAVASCRIPT, AJAX, jQuery
- FOOTY LAB:
Project desc:
Developed an online football jersey store that uses Express and NodeJS to help manage servers and routes. I used MongoDB to manage document-oriented information,store and pull information. NodeJS handled CRUD operations and tested backend routes during development using Postman. Users were able to add products and write reviews following the Mongoose schema that was created . Users had full CRUD capabilities when they added their products.

- Tech Stack: REST NodeJS, ExpressJS, MongoDB, MongooseJS, Bootstrap, HTML, CSS , Javascript

- Dynamix360:

Project desc:

Developed a full-stack application using the MERN tech stack heavily focused on React that allows users to find local pick-up games in their area, they can also host events too. I used React.js to serve the front-end with Javascript methods and functions. Implemented a Google login authentication using firebase and implemented the Google Maps api. Google maps api allowed users to see the distance between users current location and the event.
